

A HISTORIC YEAR OF GIVING

Dear Alumni and Friends,

Thanks to the remarkable generosity of our Norton College of Medicine alumni and friends, the Upstate Medical Alumni Foundation has achieved a record-breaking $9.3 million in gifts this past year—a testament to your enduring commitment to excellence in medical education.

This historic year also marks the successful completion of our Generation to Generation/Excellence in Medicine campaign, which surpassed its goal by raising more than $25 million for student scholarships and other endowments. This transformative achievement will open doors for generations of future physicians, helping to ensure that talented students can pursue their calling in medicine regardless of financial circumstances. This year at Reunion, we were able to present 182 scholarship awards worth $1.9 million to deserving students with financial need.

Your gifts represent more than dollars—they embody the values that unite our alumni community: a dedication to advancing medical education, a commitment to reducing student debt burden, and a shared belief in the power of opportunity. Each scholarship awarded, each student supported, and each barrier removed reflects your investment in the future of medicine and the continuation of Upstate's legacy of excellence.

On behalf of the students whose lives you've changed and the institution you continue to strengthen, we extend our deepest gratitude. This Report of Gifts celebrates your generosity and the lasting impact you are making on medical education.

Thank you for your generosity,

Paul E. Norcross

A Lifetime of Caring

Norman R. Loomis, MD '52, endows scholarship to support family medicine students

Norman R. Loomis, MD '52, and his wife Jinny

When Norman R. Loomis, MD '52, began his medical education at what was then Syracuse University College of Medicine, paying for tuition, books, and food was a constant challenge. With help from the GI Bill and a supportive uncle who was also a family doctor, he made it through—and built a lifelong career defined by compassion, community, and service.

After completing his residency at Methodist Hospital in Brooklyn, Dr. Loomis settled in Ontario, New York, where he practiced family medicine for more than 50 years. His office on Walworth Road, an architectural curiosity designed by a friend and protégé of Louis Kahn, became a town landmark, and his home dining room doubled as an in-home clinic for neighbors in need of stitches or care. "Helping when people need it most isn't a 9-to-5 job," Loomis says. "It wasn't a burden.

It was part of the job that I loved."

Loomis was also part of the larger medical community, serving as town health officer, physician for the Wayne Central School District, as president of the New York State Academy of Family Physicians and also served on the board of American Academy of Family Physicians.

Nearing his 99th birthday and 29 years retired, Loomis says people still stop him and share stories of his impact as their doctor. That enduring gratitude inspired him to give back to the profession that shaped his life. In 2024, he endowed the Dr. Norman R. Loomis Family Practice Scholarship at the Norton College of Medicine, hoping to encourage medical students into the field of family medicine.

"It's not about my name on the scholarship," he says. "It's about supporting students who want to serve their communities through family practice. If I can help make that path a little easier, we all win."

For 2025 scholarship recipient John Babich '26, the impact is already profound. "This award strengthens my commitment to primary care," Babich wrote in a thank-you note to Loomis. "Your generosity encourages me to carry forward the values of service and compassion central to family medicine."

That's precisely what Loomis was hoping for. "I believe we are created to be involved and to help one another," he says. "My entire career was devoted to helping all people—across my town, county, state—and it was hugely satisfying to me. I hope others can enjoy similar rewards."

Dr. Loomis died November 8 as this magazine was preparing to go to print. Donations in his memory can be made to the Dr. Norman R. Loomis Family Practice Scholarship at <https://medalumni.upstate.edu/donate>

Providing Opportunity

Vijay Kotha, MD '99, Honors His Parents and His Upstate Roots

For Vijay Kotha, MD '99, establishing the Kotha Family Scholarship in honor of Aranjyothi Kotha, MD, HS '82, and Vijayasimha Kotha, MD, wasn't just about giving back—it was about honoring sacrifice, celebrating opportunity, and supporting students from economically challenged communities.

The scholarship, created in January 2025, celebrates the sacrifices his parents made and aims to open doors for future students from the region where he grew up. "My parents gave everything for our family and our education," Kotha says. "This is a way to honor them and help others from our area have the same chance I did."

His father, Dr. Vijayasimha Kotha, is a urologist who built a busy practice in Ogdensburg, in northern New York. His mother, Dr. Aranjyothi Kotha, attended medical school in India before immigrating to the United States to marry her husband and deferred her career for over a decade while raising three children.

When Dr. Kotha was in the fourth grade, his mother began a residency in psychiatry at Upstate, located two hours south in Syracuse. Every week, she would drive to Syracuse for her residency—returning home only on weekends, which she spent cooking meals to last her family for the next week. "Having gone through residency myself, I don't know how she did it," Kotha says. "She worked incredibly hard, not because we needed the money—my father had a successful practice—but because she wanted her own meaningful career."

After completing her residency in 1982, she spent more than two decades serving patients at the St. Lawrence Psychiatric Center. She died in 2015. His father practiced urology in Ogdensburg for more than 40 years. Their dedication inspired their son's own path in medicine.

After earning his undergraduate degree from Cornell and a master's from Boston University, Kotha came to Upstate for medical school. Visiting friends who lived in Madison Towers, he realized he'd been there as a child. "It was where my mother lived during her residency," he says.

Following graduation, where his parents were able to hood him to welcome him into the medical profession, Kotha completed his urology residency at SUNY Buffalo and now practices with Comprehensive Urology in Canton, Michigan.

Despite having two daughters in college (including one at Syracuse University) and a third in high school, Kotha says his own successful practice affords him the ability to give back to the institution that provided the foundation for that career. "I feel like I've come full circle," he says. "I wanted to give back to the place that put me on the road to doing well."

The Kotha Family Scholarship will support Norton College of Medicine students with financial need who come from northern New York counties such as St. Lawrence, Jefferson, Lewis, and Franklin. "It's an economically challenged area," Kotha explains. "If someone from there gets into medical school, I want to help them succeed."
